State law does not set out to what extent a witness is to be heard before the court or bound to testify or answer the question, "but surely the statute contemplates more than simply hearing the witness refuse again to answer the same question propounded to him in the Grand Jury room without first ascertaining the nature of the information the question is designed to produce," Jones said.

The court said Davis and Prosecutor Richard B. Adkisson of Little Rock had argued "extreme views in opposite directions" and that it did not agree with either.

Davis' attorneys contended that a police officer had absolute privilege to refuse to reveal his confidential sources while Adkisson contended that an officer was bound to answer any and all questions asked of him by a Grand Jury.

'68 HEART PRINCESS

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower crowns 15-year-old Delby Quinn of Los Angeles as Heart Princess of the 1968 Heart Fund Campaign, now being conducted nationally. Heart research helped save her life. In 1968, Delby underwent open-heart surgery. She now leads a normal life, attends high school and plays guitar in a rock-and-roll group.

Two Killed in Wreck at N. Little Rock

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two persons were killed and two others were injured critically early today when their car went out of control and smashed into a tree just outside the city limits here.

The victims were identified as Patrick McGilli, 15, and Mary Hubbard, 21, both of Little Rock.

The injured were Burton Hubbard, 16, and Noble Vance, 18, both of Little Rock.

Officers said the car driven by Miss Hubbard traveled about 300 feet after leaving the road before crashing into the tree.

Police Halt Rioting in Hippie Area

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Police hurled tear gas and marched into crowds in massed formations Sunday to clear streets of pedestrians who were rioting.

More than 90 persons were arrested.

Cars were backed up for blocks around, police said, and the crowds refused to get off the streets.

Police gave this account: Two squad cars from Park Station answered the original trouble call but quickly summed up their efforts.

Some 20 squad cars arrived, along with five tactical command units and 15 motorcycle officers.

The police formed columns and used three-foot long batons to clear the Haight-Ashbury intersection.

Bottles were thrown from rooftops as the officers made their march.

After the arrests clusters of people remained along the sidewalk, holding handkerchiefs over their noses as a heavy fog cover kept the tear gas fumes in the area. One youth donned a gas mask over his shoulder-length hair.

Police said crowds in the area had increased during the rainy afternoon. There was an unusual influx of young people and other visitors.

The disturbance continued from mid-afternoon until 8:30 p.m., when the police radio called in tear-gas equipment.

Officers at City Prison said charges against those arrested were mostly for failure to disperse, but included assault, resisting arrest and inciting a riot.

Obituaries

Ben L. Arnold, 87, retired farmer of Hope Rte. 4, died Saturday in a local hospital.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ida Arnold, three sons, Paul L. Arnold of El Dorado, Cecil Arnold of Prescott, Roy Arnold of California; four daughters, Mrs. Annie M. Collier, Mrs. Ruth Percell and Mrs. Hazel Hopson, all of Hope and Mrs. Dessie Marcell of Texarkana.

Services were Monday at Herndon Chapel. Burial in Memory Gardens by Herndon Funeral Home.

CHICAGO (AP) — Howard Ellis, 76, credited with pioneering the legal defense of fair comment, died Sunday. Ellis was an expert on libel law and general counsel for The Chicago Tribune. Ellis initiated the fair comment defense when the late Henry Ford, the auto manufacturer, sued the Tribune in 1919 for $1 million. Ford was awarded six cents damage for having been called an anarchist in an editorial.

NEW YORK (AP) — Ray Brock, 54, former Balkan correspondent for The New York Times died, the paper reported Sunday. Brock covered the German invasion of Yugoslavia and later became Times correspondent in Ankara, Turkey. He authored several books, including "Nor any Victory," "Blood, Oil and Sand," and "Ghost on Horseback."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kathryn D. Goodwin, former director of the Federal Bureau of Family Services, died Saturday. Miss Goodwin's career in social work spanned 36 years, 25 of which were spent with the bureau of family services, an agency of the Department of Health Education and Welfare.

MORRISTOWN, N.J. (AP) — William G. Mennen, board chairman of the Mennen Co., manufacturers of men's toilet articles, died Saturday. He was 83.

A Warming Trend Is Expected

Light rain or drizzle is forecast for southern portions of Arkansas tonight and Tuesday, and a gradual warming trend is expected over the state through Tuesday.

However, the U. S. Weather Bureau said the warming trend is only gradual with no really warm weather in the picture.

The bureau said another large Arctic high pressure mass in Canada may become a threat to Arkansas by late Wednesday or Wednesday night.

High temperatures Sunday ranged from 51 at El Dorado to 36 at Harrison. Overnight lows ranged from 20 at Batesville to 39 at Texarkana.

There was no rainfall reported for the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today.

deputy until he has passed all the tests and gone through a riot training program of 40 to 60 hours.

The sheriff said that during the training starting March 1, Negro sergeants would swing bats at white trainees and vice versa.

"Part of the training," he said, "is to subject a man to insults and humiliation to a reasonable extreme. If he gets angry, out he goes."

"We are going to have psychological tests to help filter out sadists and kooks," he said.

Of the first 51 volunteers, 21 were turned down. One man's application was rejected when he remarked, "the colored have gone too far, we need something like this to stop them in their tracks."

When Woods' plan was announced Feb. 12, the sheriff was reported to have said the unit was being formed to quell threatened demonstrations and riots during the Democratic National Convention in August.

Mayor Richard J. Daley, a Democrat, then criticized the plan as dangerous and said, "We don't want that in Chicago."

But Woods, a Republican, said Sunday, "I have never said I would come into the city of Chicago." He said he lacked manpower for such.

Harry Leviton has filed suit on "behalf of the people of Illinois" to stop formation of the posse on grounds it is illegal.

Woods said he believed it is based on an 1874 Illinois law but asked State's Atty. John Stamos for an opinion.

If Stamos "tells me this plan would put Cook County in an untenable position," the sheriff said, "I would drop it."

3 Persons Killed on Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three persons died on the Arkansas highways during the 54-hour weekend period which ended at midnight Sunday.

State Police identified the victims as Charles Wayne Barnes, 24, of Huntington (Sebastian County); Patrick Kirkland, 61, of Rogers; and Audry Wolf, 46, of Morrilton.

Barnes was killed early Sunday when his truck failed to negotiate a curve inside the Huntington city limits and overturned. Officers said Barnes was alone at the time of the accident.

Kirkland was struck and killed Saturday on U.S. 71 about three miles south of the Benton County line. State Police said Kirkland was standing on the highway when he was struck.

Authorities said Wolf was killed Saturday night when his pickup truck left U.S. 64 inside the Plummerville city limits and struck a power pole.

Major Issues Still Before Legislature

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two major proposals are still to be acted upon as the special session of the legislature moves into its third week today with both the House and the Senate convening at 1 p.m.

Both houses must consider a bill to set up a Department of Corrections while some type of compromise must be reached on a bill establishing procedure for holding a constitutional convention.

There is also a possibility of further action on Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's request that Lynn A. Davis be made immediately eligible for reappointment as State Police director.

One bill, under which Davis could without question serve again in mid-July, passed both houses last week. Two new bills were introduced in the House Friday while the Senate has before it an unamended administration bill. All three, if passed, would make Davis eligible immediately.

As for Eisenhower, it is to be assumed Johnson was not unmindful of the political implications of his friendly meeting with the only living ex-Republican president in this election year.

"I really honestly believe he has been as helpful to me as any one person since I've been President," Johnson declared.

At the outset of his visit to the Eisenhower home at the El Dorado Country Club in Palm Desert, Johnson was accompanied by Lt. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, deputy commander of the Marines and a Vietnam veteran, and Walt W. Rostow, the President's special assistant for national security affairs.

These men, Johnson reported, briefed Eisenhower on crises in Vietnam and Korea for about an hour.

Johnson, who has had many kind words recently for the U.S. commander in Vietnam, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, invoked Eisenhower's name in defense of the general.

He said Eisenhower told him he would never substitute his own judgement as a military commander for the man on the ground—Westmoreland being the man on the ground.

Reporting that Eisenhower spoke highly of Westmoreland, Johnson said the former chief executive told him the Vietnam commander bears the greatest responsibility of any general he ever heard about in history.

Johnson said he asked if this meant greater responsibility than Eisenhower shouldered as allied commander in Western Europe in World War II.

He said Eisenhower replied he meant just that because "I always knew where the enemy was."

In his own public speeches along his route, Johnson struck a theme of perseverance in Vietnam.

As he told crewmen aboard the Constellation, "Men may debate—men may dissent—men may disagree—and God forbid that a time should come when men of this land may not."

"But there comes a time when men must stand—and for America, that time has now come."

Declaring that "the enemy believes he thinks that our will is vulnerable," Johnson said "quite certainly we know that the enemy is going to fall; we have taken our stand."

AIC Donald Herring has returned to Keesler AFB, Miss., after a 10-day visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Herring of near Patmos. He will resume studies in special training in electronics counter-measures.

mand expresses its regrets and offers assurance that all possible measures will be taken to insure that such incidents will not recur in the future.

There was no indication that the North Koreans fired on the planes.

North Korea called the commission meeting. The senior Communist delegate, Maj. Gen. Pak Chung Kook, charged that "a formation of American military airplanes" intruded into North Korean air space north of Pannumjon for four minutes and engaged in "hostile acts and reconnaissance."

Pak claimed that U.N. forces had committed 36 other armistice violations between Feb. 13 and Feb. 18, but Smith denied all these.

The North Korean delegate

charged that "a few Yankee aggressor troops" raided a Communist guard post near Sonjong-Ni on the western front Sunday night. He said the infiltrators were "successfully repelled and wiped out."

Smith also denied this. He said the only U.N. Command activity on the western front Sunday night occurred about 9:17 a.m. when U.N. Command personnel fired on "several of your marauders" attempting to infiltrate into South Korea near Pannumjon. He did not say what happened to these North Koreans.

Pak said preparations by "U.S. imperialists to unleash another war in Korea" reached a peak when they sent the U.N. intelligence-gathering ship Pueblo into Communist waters Jan. 23. This was the only reference the Communist delegate made to the Pueblo incident during Monday's meeting.

In Washington, the State Department warned again that if North Korea treats the crewmen of the Pueblo as war criminals, it would be considered "a deliberate aggravation of an already serious situation."

A spokesman declined to comment on why the State Department was reaffirming a position taken Jan. 26. But he quoted at length a "joint letter of apology" which North Korea issued recently and said was signed by the 82 surviving crewmen of the Pueblo.

The letter, which the State Department said was false, said in part: "We know that when one is captured for conducting espionage against a foreign country, he should be severely punished in accordance with the law of that country."

GOVERNORS WERE WRITERS
PLYMOUTH, Mass. (AP)—William Bradford, the second governor of the Plymouth Colony, began Massachusetts' literary tradition. His history, "Of Plymouth Plantation," and Gov. John Winthrop's "A History of New England," provide historians with almost all the information they have about the colonists' way of life in early New England.

Plenty of People Do Want Money

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Clint Wescott may not want the money but others do.

Wescott is the man who spurned some $20,000 due him, saying he'd rather live on a pile of newspapers under a bridge and stay "on the bum."

Hundreds of letters have been written to him since last Sunday when he was told $19,219 in two Burnt Hills, N.Y., banks belonged to him from the sale of a gas station he abandoned 15 years ago. Since then he's been told his father died a year ago, leaving him about $4,000.

Wescott, 51, has had marriage proposals, and appeals from inventors, college students, ministers and many claiming to be particularly needy.

Asked if would change his mind about the money, Wescott said, Sunday, "No. Still the same. I don't want to talk about it. I just want to keep living this life."

"I can't live in the weeds with my own friends if I take the money. That's for sure."

Not all the writers sought money.

There was a letter from a man, apparently awaiting a plane at the San Francisco International Airport, who wrote, "no requests, just admiration for sticking to your beliefs. I'm making $20,000 a year working three jobs, keeping a family of four children, a wife and also a friend. I envy you. I may join you someday."

OFF TO ON-BROADWAY
NEW YORK (AP)—An off-Broadway musical is heading for Broadway via London.

Ted Danilewski, theater and film producer, has bought the rights to "Man with a Load of Mischief," which earned critical praise and a respectable side-street run a year ago. He intends to present the show in the West End and then bring the production here for a Broadway run prior to making a film version.

Didn't Come Home This Time

POCA, W. Va. (AP) — The mutt hasn't come home this time. He may have been frightened off by the results of his first return.

The dog came back to the home of James Goodwin after Goodwin had given his faithful companion to Archie Moore, both men live on Route 1, Poca.

Goodwin started driving the dog back to Moore's home and, at the top of a hill, Goodwin's car met head on one carrying Moore and his nephew.

Goodwin suffered a fractured skull. Moore and his nephew suffered facial lacerations. The dog ran away.

University Merger Is Attacked

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — The president of the Conway Chamber of Commerce has attacked a bill to effect the merger of Little Rock University and the University of Arkansas.

Stanley Russ said "the case for the merger is so weak that it cannot withstand the free debate and thorough discussion that must accompany so critical an issue."

A merger bill was brought up for a vote Friday by Sen. Max Howell of Little Rock, who withdrew it from consideration when Sen. Guy Jones of Conway questioned whether it came within the purview of the special session call.

Russ said Howell's action was even more deplorable since Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller had stated Feb. 5 that the merger would not be an issue in the current special session.

MELROSE E. H. MEETS

The Melrose Extension Home-maker Club met on February 13th at the home of Mrs. Virgie Robertson. They sang "America". The lesson was given by Mrs. Oia Smith on "Away with Stains". The business meeting was held by Mrs. A. C. Kirby, president. Mrs. Wilton Mullins, president of Hempstead County Extension Homemakers, was a welcomed visitor. At the end of the meeting several games were played. Refreshments were served to eight members and three visitors. The next meeting will be held March 12 in the home of Mrs. Lyle Allen.

BROOKWOOD PTA

A timely devotional brought by Mrs. Bob Dillard opened the Brookwood PTA meeting Wednesday afternoon at the school.

Mrs. George Frazier presided during the business meeting and also introduced those taking part on the program. It was announced that a spaghetti supper is planned for Friday night March 22nd at the school. Mr. Ray Turner on behalf of the W. O. W. presented the school a new flag and thanks were expressed to this group.

A delightful sextet from the Friday Music Club sang a medley of songs in celebration of "Parade of American Music" which is observed each February. The group was composed of Mesdames: Betty Jo Hays, Betty Moore, Margaret Medders, Ramona Storch, Louise McLemore and Donna Smith. Mrs. B. C. Hyatt accompanied them at the piano.

In lieu of the customary Founder's Day Program held each February a unique substitute was made wherein our Brookwood teachers and PTA "founders" were honored. A very special guest was Mrs. B. C. Hyatt who was Principal of "old" Brookwood School from 1935 to 1948. This school was a two story brick building located where Dairy Queen is now. Among the interesting observations brought out by the speaker were that these were "lean but happy days". Even though the building was brick it was cold and drafty. There were cracks in the plaster as well as in the roof. The library books were almost nonexistent then. A quaker lady tried to meet with two new books a year. Salaries were very, very low but the school spirit was excellent and many of our present leading citizens were pupils there. The last PTA President in the old location and the first in the new school was Mrs. George Robinson. The present one is the daughter of Mrs. Hyatt, Mrs. George Frazier.

Mrs. Elmer Brown who took over as Principal in 1948, when the new School was built and has been in this capacity since, brought information on happenings in the past nineteen years. Assisting her was Mrs. Horace Fuller from the faculty, who brought out pertinent facts from the scrap books kept each year. A pot of beautiful red tulips was presented to Mrs. Brown by the PTA on behalf of her continuing fine leadership.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

The Wednesday afternoon Duplicate Bridge Club met with Mrs. Taylor Stuart. After two tables of club members had concluded play, Mrs. Paul Lewis was high and Mrs. J. M. Duffie was second. Cookies and coffee were served.

FRIDAY BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

Mrs. W. A. Mudgett was a guest of the Friday Bridge Club which met with Mrs. C. C. Lewis on February 16. Bridge was played at two tables, and the high scorers were Mary K. Lehman and Mrs. Charles Harrell. A salad plate and coffee were served for refreshments.

Pictured left to right are: Mrs. Chris Petre, Mrs. B. W. Edwards, and Mrs. Jerry Alexander

Mrs. Chris Petre announces that the Hope Council of Garden Clubs will be host to the Southwest District Meeting of Garden Clubs Tuesday, Feb. 27 at the First Methodist Church. Mrs. Jerry Alexander will be chairman for this occasion. She advises that Thursday, Feb. 22 will be the final day to receive registrations. The meeting will start at 8:00 a.m. Luncheon will be served by the Hope Council of Garden Clubs and the price of the luncheon is included in the registration fee, which is $2.75. The meeting should be concluded by 2 p.m.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

Dear Helen: When I was a teenager, I remember you wrote an answer to a letter that now applies to me, and I wonder if you could find it and reprint it. The reason I remember, my mother saved the clipping for a while: she had the same problem. That was the summer of '62 I think.

I'm married now, and some of the older wives in my husband's company seem to resent me. You see, I have one of those figures. It isn't my fault, and I don't flaunt it, but the men DO sort of gather round at a party. What am I supposed to do? Wear a tent, so the women will like me?—MRS. 38-23-35.

Dear Mrs. 38: If the tent is a maternity dress, the gals will soon forget their jealousy. Nothing softens up wives like an expectant mother in their midst. The letter? I searched four hours, and HOPE this is the one you mean:

Dear Helen: That young wife who said the older married women resented her walk: So why shouldn't they resent her? We have one on our block. My husband trips over his shoe laces getting to the window when she bounces by. Don't tell me she's as "sweet" as she pretends to us females. A girl with a figure like that just can't be any good!—DON'T TRUST 'EM

Dear Don't: Come now, DTE, why look for an angle in every curve? Well-built girls are male attracters, true, but not all are malefactors, any more than all green-eyed women are jealous.—H.

Dear Helen: I would like to clarify the misconception expressed in the letter signed "Donor," concerning Red Cross blood donations. He said, "We have to pay for blood when we need it, so why give ours away?" Because the only source of life-saving blood is the human donor, community blood banks charge a fee as an incentive to patients to provide replacements. This fee (usually $25) is refunded when the blood is replaced, either by a member of the patient's family, a friend, or through a previously established blood bank credit.

However, no one is denied blood because of financial need. Even when the patient's blood needs are covered by insurance, the blood he uses must ultimately be replaced by a human donor. Cash payments cannot assure a safe, adequate, and economical supply. The recruitment of voluntary donors remains the best guarantee of blood availability.

The need for blood increases daily as does the problem of convincing people they should become donors for their own protection as well as that of their community. We hope you will help by giving space to this message in your column!—MRS. BERNICE M. HEMPHILL, Managing Director, Irwin Memorial Blood Bank, San Francisco, Calif.

Dear Helen: Nadeen and I grew up together. I was almost like an older brother to her.

Then I moved away and when I came back, she had a baby. Though she didn't say much, I heard the man brag while drunk that he had forced her to give in. I knocked him cold.

It took almost a year, but Nadeen finally said she loved me. Her boy and I hit it off fine. But twice now she's put off the wedding date. She doesn't want to be alone with me. Half the time she seems scared. Do I just give her time, or will she ever get over this fear of men?—BART

Dear Bart: Nadeen may never get over this fear of men unless she faces it squarely, talks it out, and convinces herself that bad experiences are to life-like mold is to choose. You eliminate the bad part—with the help of expert counseling perhaps—and enjoy the rest.—H.

REGULAR THOROUGHFARE MIDDLESBORO, Ky. (AP)—More than 100,000 people moved through the Cumberland Gap between 1775 and 1795.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP)—Television's busy idea hunters turned up a couple of new ones on NBC Sunday night. One had possibilities, the other had test be forgotten.

"Remember Illinois," inspired by the state's 150th Anniversary, was a warm and affectionate salute that managed to include most of its famous sons and adopted sons from Abraham Lincoln and Carl Sandburg to Jack Benny and Benny Goodman.

Steve Allen narrates the program Dave Garroway recalled the old radio days of Chicago. Paul Douglas spoke of Lincoln and Everett Dirksen recited a poem about him. Mercedes McCambridge read from the writings of Jane Addams, and Adlai Stevenson Jr. recalled a short speech by his father.

And, naturally, the program wound up with the voice of Sandburg reciting some of his own poetry, and pronouncing the word "Chicago" as if it were a word of love.

It was, altogether, something of a mishmash, and yet all the bits and pieces were put together with such affection that the result, even to a rank outsider whose experience in Illinois has been limited to changing trains in Chicago, was impressive and interesting.

If the other 49 states could be given the same kind of treatment, it would make a nice, long-playing series of specials.

On the other hand, the producers of "The Legend of Robin Hood" are already laying plans to follow Sunday night's effort with musical specials centering on other members of the merry outlaws of Sherwood Forest.

The first endeavor hardly merits such big thinking for the future. While the costumes and settings were handsome and the singing voices of the cast were, by and large, excellent, there was considerable trouble encountered in the handling of the plot and the general treatment.

The music by Sammy Cahn and Jimmy Van Heusen was not up to their usual standard. And there were so many characters in Robin's band that none, including Robin himself, really had much more than a cameo part. Walter Slozak as Friar Tuck managed to steal the show although he didn't have such a whale of a part either.

There was plenty of fighting, arrow shooting and narrow escapes, but in the end the wicked Prince John was vanquished—just as it was when we all read it as children.

Houston Is Likely to Get Fast Bid

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The plot thickens as most of the major college conference basketball races remain muddled on the eve of post-season tournament bids, but Houston and St. Bonaventure leave little suspense among the independents.

The unbeaten Cougars and Bonnies, ranked No. 1 and No. 4 respectively, led an impressive week for all but two—Tennessee and New Mexico—of the Top Ten teams and appear certain to get the first bids this week.

Houston, after stomping Miami, Fla., early in the week and then Air Force 106-82 Saturday in Houston for its 23rd victory, is likely to be the first selection for the 25-team NCAA tournament.

St. Bonaventure, idle Saturday after an early week triumph over Seton Hall, sports an 18-0 record and could be the 14-team NIT's first pick.

However, only second-ranked UCLA, figured a shoo-in for the Pacific-8 Conference crown, has an NCAA bid all but wrapped up among the conference teams. The Bruins, 20-1 after clobbering Oregon and then Oregon State 88-71 Friday and Saturday at home, are 9-1 in the league but must play second place Southern California, 8-1, March 9.

Most conference winners receive automatic bids.

Elsewhere, the tension grows, particularly in the Southeastern Conference where three of the Top Ten teams are involved.

Tennessee, No. 7, dropped a 75-63 decision at Nashville to ninth-rated Vanderbilt following a 60-59 heart-breaking loss to eighth-ranked Kentucky.

Kentucky stopped Mississippi State 107-81 Saturday at home and took a 1½-game lead with an 11-3 league record, 17-4 overall. Tennessee, 15-5, and Vanderbilt, 17-4, are tied for second at 9-4.

Kentucky plays at tough Georgia tonight and closes its season at home March 2 in a showdown against Vanderbilt. Vandy must take on Georgia later this week while Tennessee has left six of the SEC's less successful clubs.

Third-ranked North Carolina, 20-1, followed victories over North Carolina State and Clemson with a narrow 84-80 escape over South Carolina at Charlotte.

Duke, 10th ranked and second to North Carolina in the Atlantic Coast Conference, ran over visiting Temple 92-57 Saturday after a league triumph over Wake Forest.

The Tar Heels and Blue Devils meet March 2, but the ACC title is decided in a post-season conference tournament.

New Mexico, 20-2, put its No. 5 ranking and the Western Athletic Conference crown in jeopardy by losing at Utah 71-64 and dropping into a first place tie with the Redskins at 5-2.

The other Top Ten team, Columbia, No. 6, crushed Harvard 116-56 at home for its 13th straight victory and 17th in 20 games, but it didn't crack an Ivy League deadlock for first place with Princeton, 17-4. Both are 9-1 after the Tigers whipped Yale 74-71.

Columbia and Princeton clash March 2, with the winner likely to get an at-large bid to the NCAA.

In other conference races, Davidson holds a half game lead over West Virginia after humbling host George Washington 85-72 but a post-season tournament will decide that champion.

Iowa took the Big Ten lead by a half game over Ohio State and Northwestern with a home court 69-61 victory over Wisconsin while the Buckeyes were upset at Minnesota 83-79 and the Wildcats beat Michigan State 69-61 at home, Iowa and Ohio State crack heads Tuesday night.

Baylor had its Southwest Conference lead shaved to a half game over Texas A&M, TCU and Texas by losing to visiting A&M 67-63.

A half game separates Kansas, Iowa State, Kansas State and Nebraska in the Big Eight with Kansas on top after beating Nebraska 71-60 at Lawrence, while Louisville leads the Missouri Valley by two games.

Hogs Really Blasted by Mustangs

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Razorbacks, a contender in the Southwest Conference basketball race two weeks ago, are now in the conference's second division.

The Razorbacks fell to hot-shooting Southern Methodist 95-87 here Saturday.

The loss was the Razorback's third straight and evened their conference record at 5-5. Arkansas, however, is still mathematically in the race. League-leading Baylor is 7-3 while Texas A&M, TCU and Texas are tied for second at 6-4. All have four games left.

SMU hit 69 per cent of its shots from the field in the first half including 11 in a row. The Mustangs led 49-38 at the half.

Guard Bill Voight scored 24 points and center Lynn Phillips added 23 for the Mustangs. James Eldridge led the Razorbacks with 22 points.

Henderson Could Wrap It Up Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tonight could be the night Henderson wraps up the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball championship that has eluded the Reddies for the past 10 years.

Henderson, 13-3 in conference play, hosts Arkansas A&M tonight. Only Southern State, 11-5, has a chance to even share the title with the Reddies and the Mulieriders must beat State College and Harding to keep their chances alive.

If the Reddies don't clinch the title tonight they'll have a second chance Thursday when they play Hendrix at Conway.

The six teams which will compete in the AIC tournament at Pine Bluff next week will also be determined during the final week. The winner of the tournament will face the league champion with the victor going to the NAIA tournament at Kansas City.

Five of the spots have been decided. Arkansas A&M, 7-9, has the inside track to the other spot. The Weevils would have to lose two games and either Hendrix or Ozarks win two for there to be a tie for the last spot.

Ashdown Knocks Off Hope Girls

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Plagued by foul trouble late in the game, the Hope Lady Cats saw their 14-game winning streak end last Saturday night, falling to the Ashdown Pantherettes 54-51 in two overtimes at Prescott in the District 7-A championship game.

It was the first time the Lady Cats have lost since the middle of December, and put Hope in a hard bracket position for the State Class A meet this week in Prescott. The girls' first game is set for 9:10 p.m. on Wednesday evening, and to go all the way the Lady Cats will have to win four consecutive nights.

But Hope will have a psychological factor going for them, now that they have felt once more the agony of defeat. However, the girls had better get in a lot of rest between now and Wednesday.

While Ashdown was playing with letter-perfect form, the Lady Cats got off to a slow start. Capitalizing on turnovers and fouls, the Pantherettes hit the lead for good on a layup by Suzanne Walker at 6-4 with five minutes remaining in the first period.

Balanced scoring was turning the trick, and Ashdown led Hope 15-10 at the quarter. Things got worse before they got any better, as the Pantherettes moved to 19-11 cushion before the Lady Cats made their first move.

With Gail Hartsfield, the tourney's most outstanding player, leading the way, Hope scraped and scraped until the deficit was cut to 25-23 just before the half. Ashdown sank a last-second basket, though, and led 27-23 at intermission.

Throughout the third segment the Lady Cats tried to recapture the lead, but to no avail.

Finally the Pantherettes hit a four-point spree at the period's end to get up a 41-36 lead going into the last quarter. Now was the time for the Lady Cats to pull off their comeback that everyone had been yelling for, and they did it with the details of a fairy tale.

Still behind 47-45, the Lady Cats were having some tight moments when Pantherette Gayle Altenbaumer stepped to the line in a 1 and 1 situation with 12 seconds remaining to be played. Her shot went astray, though, and Kay Coleman came down with the rebound for the Lady Cats.

Quickly the ball was thrown downcourt, and given to Carol Anthony, who numbly flicked it through with one tick to go. When the buzzer sounded, the large Hope crowd broke into pandemonium, and seemed quite confident, as did the Lady Cats. Meanwhile the scoreboard was set to 2:00 while "home" and "visitors" both were settling for 47-47.

In the first overtime Ashdown wisely elected to sit on the ball, as all three Hope guards were playing with four fouls. Finally the play that Pantherette Coach Helen Parker had employed with extreme success worked again, and Ashdown had a 49-47 lead.

Once again the Lady Cats had to come back, and once again Carol Anthony coolly responded with another 15-foot jumper, this one with six seconds left on the clock. So the teams lined up for the sixth time strangled at 49-47 and the fans limp with excitement.

But the tide soon turned, when guard Nellie Churchill fouled out with 1:12 left, Donna Byers had left with five fouls just before the end of the opening overtime, but the loss of the second starter was too much. Thus the 54-51 loss.

Still, much good came out of it, as the Lady Cats placed three deserving girls on the All-District team, including guard Kay Coleman and forwards Carol Anthony and Gail Hartsfield, who earned her most outstanding player award for her overall hustle plus her 53 points in the two games. Nellie Churchill and Donna Byers played well enough to make the team, as did Kathryn Coleman, but everyone can't be chosen.

Knudson Wins First Big Meet

By STEVE BASSETT
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — "I can't remember wanting to win a golf tournament as much as I did this one."

That's how George Knudson, a $20,000 first-prize check in his pocket, described his winning effort in the $100,000 Phoenix Open.

Knudson, a 31-year-old tour regular from Toronto, Canada, carded an even-par 71 in Sunday's final round for a 12-under-par 272 and a three-stroke victory over three challengers.

Oddly, it was a four-foot bogey putt on the 210-yard, par 3 15th hole which Knudson considered the spark that led to his first triumph since the 1967 New Orleans Open and his fifth tour win.

"I showed my colors there," said the chain-smoking Knudson of the putt which managed to keep him even with charging Sam Carmichael, after he had put his tee shot in a lake in front of the green.

Carmichael, who parred the 15th, held a share of the lead only briefly and fell two strokes behind after the next two bogeys. He was only one of two challengers who caught Knudson during the final round over the 6,765-yard, par-71 Phoenix County Club Course.

"Nothing I did was too easy," said Knudson. "I spent all day watching what the others were doing. It wasn't until the 18th hole that I was able to take my first big swing of the day."

Knudson carried a two-stroke lead into the final hole and then holed out a three-foot birdie putt to put him 3-up on Carmichael, Martinsville, Ind., who finished with even-par 71.

Defending champion Julius Boros, who finished in a tie with Carmichael and young Jack Montgomery, Fort Worth, Tex., for second place, each with nine-under 275, missed a shot to be all alone in the runner-up spot.

He pitched to within three feet of the hole on the 535-yard, par-5 18th hole, but his putt rolled to the left of the hole. Second place was worth $8,166 to each of the three players.

Tommy Shaw, 26, Golf, Ill., club pro, after two early birdies, passed Knudson on the sixth hole when the Canadian carded the first of his two final-round bogeys to go 12 under par.

But from that point on, Shaw's game collapsed completely. He bogeyed the eighth

Olympics Ends on Angry Note

By MORRIS ROSENBERG
Associated Press Writer

GRENABLE, France (AP) — The Winter Olympics, beset by injury and warm weather, ended in controversy and anger, and possibly set the stage for more of the same at the Summer Olympics next October.

The administrative antics off the ice and snow all but overshadowed the athletes and such performances as Jean-Claude Killy's sweep of the men's Alpine skiing, Eugenio Monti's two victories in the bobsleds and a pair of gold medals for Toni Gustafsson in the women's cross-country skiing.

However, it did not shake U.S. pride in skaters Peggy Fleming, Terry McDermott, Tim Wood, Diane Holum, Jenny Fish and Mary Meyers, nor its disappointment in the injury-prone U.S. skiers and the hockey team. In all, the United States finished with one gold medal, five silver and one bronze—a total of seven, one more than in 1964.

The Games officially closed Sunday night in traditional ceremonies at the Grenoble ice rink and the extinguishing of the Olympic flame, which burned for 12 days and nights for 37 countries. It will be relit in Mexico City and more countries will be represented, as usual for the Summer Games. But a number who normally would compete now look doubtful.

A bloc of predominately Negro African nations have pulled out, protesting an International Olympic Committee decision to allow South Africa with its apartheid policy of segregation to participate with an integrated team.

There also is some fear of a Russian pullout after the Soviet Union denounced the IOC decision.

"Without Russia the Olympics Games would still be the Olympic Games," said Frank Braun, president of the South African Olympic Association. "In any case, I cannot see Russia withdrawing—not with all those medals at stake."

He added that there is "not a ghost of a chance of us withdrawing—as an act of self-sacrifice should Russia withdraw."

And while that turmoil bubbled, Austria and Karl Schranz still raged over Killy's victory in the special slalom by default Saturday.

Killy, the Games' top performer with victories in the downhill, giant slalom and special slalom, accomplished the rare triple that only Toni Sailer of Austria had done before in 1956. But the speeding Frenchman needed two disqualifications—Schranz and Hakkon Mjoen of Norway—to win, and send thousands of Frenchmen celebrating and an equal number of Austrians screaming "foul."

"It was an unjust decision," said Schranz, who was disqualified with Mjoen for missing gates in the second heat after their times beat Killy's clocking.

Schranz claimed an unidentified onlooker hindered him on the foggy course, causing him to miss the gate, but the International Skiing Federation threw out his protest, saying he missed the gate before the onlooker impeded him.

Favell Turns in the Real Acrobatics

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Helmstedt Stan Mikita and bare-headed Ken Wharram each scored the three-goal hat trick but it was no trick compared to the acrobatics Doug Favell went through.

Mikita and Wharram, two-thirds of Chicago's dynamic Scooter Line, riddled Detroit's Roger Crozier as the Black Hawks hammered the Red Wings 7-1 Sunday. Favell kicked out 42 shots and went a round or so with rough Red Fleming as Philadelphia bowed to New York 3-1. In Sunday's only other National Hockey League game, Boston outlasted Los Angeles 6-5.

On Saturday, New York edged Toronto 3-2, Montreal nipped Pittsburgh 4-3, Oakland dropped Boston 3-1, Chicago battered Detroit 7-1 and St. Louis tied Minnesota 2-2.

Mikita, Wharram and line-mate Doug Mohns all donned helmets after the tragic death of Minnesota's Bill Masterton ear-

East Germany also left with a bitter taste after three of its lugers, running 1-2-4 in the singles, were disqualified for heating the runners on their sleds against Olympic rules.

There also was a minor battle between the Ski Federation and IOC over the use of manufacturers' trademarks on skis, and a protest by skiers against the use of classification runs to determine starting positions in the slalom.

Rockets in Upset Win Over 76ers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With a clinch to seal a National Basketball Association record, the San Diego Rockets blew it—they won.

And the West Coast expansion team did it the hard way. They knocked off the defending world ly this year. Since then, Wharram has discarded his.

The Scooters terrorized the final two minutes to give the Bruins their victory over Los Angeles.

The Rangers fired 45 shots at Detroit goalie with Mikita taking two assists on his three goals and running his season's total to a league leading 70 points, Bobby Hull, with his 40th goal and two assists, has 69 points.

Meanwhile, the Rangers kept the pressure on the second place Flyers and Fleming landed a couple of punches on the goalie in a first period scrap. It developed from a high sticking duel around the Philadelphia net and wound up with each player drawing major and minor penalties.

Don Marshall, Bob Nevin and Orland Kurtenbach scored the Ranger goals in an 18-shot second period—as many shots as the Flyers took at New York's Ed Giacomin all night.

Phil Esposito had a goal and three assists for Boston but it took a goal by Glen Sather in Hawks in the NHL's East race.

New York is just two points back of Chicago and unbeaten in the last eight games.

Thinks Moon Has Warm, Wet Areas

LOS ANGELES (AP) — New studies indicate the moon may have moist, warm areas—possibly conducive to microbial life—a lunar scientist reports.

Dr. Jack Green told a seminar at the University of California at Los Angeles chapter of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics Tuesday that evidence of moisture was found in specially filtered telescope pictures of an area near the crater Aristarchus.

Aristarchus, in the upper left portion of the lunar disk, is the site of red flares—possibly indicating volcanic activity—reported by several astronomers.

Green said his belief that there may be warm, moist areas near the crater is based on apparent detection of sulfur with a filter, producing photographs in which that mineral shows up black. Large black areas several miles square were found in photographs recently made to investigate earlier indications, Green said.

WIN AT BRIDGE Hand Hogs Don't Trust Partners

Jim: "Some years back you discussed the various types of bad bridge players. Are they still with us?"

Oswald: "Today and forever. The most common is the hand hog. Somehow or other this player always finds a reason why he should play the hand. Every one of us is likely to have some of these hogish tendencies but all good players try to avoid them."

Jim: "Of course lots of players excuse their hand hogging by claiming that their partner misplays so many dummies that they want to prevent that."

Oswald: "There is something to that theory. On the other hand no matter how well you play you can't make a no-trump game if the opponents start proceedings against you by running a five-card suit nor can you make four of a major if they collect four quick tricks in aces and kings."

Jim: "Sometimes there must be a little sympathy for the hand hog. Take today's hand as an example."

Oswald: "Yes, indeed. I am afraid that most bridge players would go on to four spades after their partner jumped to three no-trump. Most bridge players but never a really good player who could trust his partner."

Jim: "Four spades figures to make unless the defense cashes its four tricks right away. On the other hand there is no reason why they should not."

Oswald: "This hand was actually played in a rubber bridge game. South justified his four spade call on the theory that if North held the ace of diamonds instead of the king-queen-jack, four spades would have made easily while three no-trump might have gone down."

Jim: "South was right about that. On the other hand North was looking right at his own hand and knew exactly which diamonds he held."

 What do you do?

A—Various expert artificial bids are available to show this type of very big hand. If you aren't playing one of them your best line of attack is to go right into Blackwood and get to six at least. Give your partner five spades to the king and nothing else and there may still be a grand slam.

TODAY'S PROBLEM
 Instead of responding one spade your partner passes one club but East is kind enough to bid one diamond. What do you do?

Short Stuff: Suicides, Pianos, Unmarked Roads

There was this man threatening to jump from the 10th floor of an Atlanta office building, according to L. Carter Johnson, and a policeman tried to talk him out of it.

"Think of your wife and children," said the officer.

"Don't have any," replied the man.

"Then think about your old father and mother," said the officer.

"They're dead," replied the man.

"All right then, think about Robert E. Lee," said the officer.

"Who's he?" said the man.

"Jump, you damn Yankee!" said the officer.

And from the same source I get the one about the man who gave his wife a piano. A month later a friend asked him: "How's the wife coming on with the piano?"

"Not the piano," replied the husband; "I swapped it for a piccolo."

"Why a piccolo?" asked the friend.

"Because," said the husband, "when she's playing the piccolo she's not able to sing..."

The circumstances under which I got this material also deserve a few lines. There's a network of country roads east of Rocky Mount, and neither of us having been over them Johnson and I picked Sunday afternoon to do some exploring.

I won't say we actually got lost, but I will say that the story-swapping helped us when we were busily retracing our fire-treads from a wrong turn at a fork.

Our aim was to go from Hope to Prescott not by U.S. 67 but by the network of country roads east of Rocky Mount. We had some instructions, but the trouble with road instructions is they invariably forget to mention a fork or two—in this case half a dozen forks, shall we say?

You can't beat a map, and, lacking a map, we at times were almost beat.

Like the time Johnson and I forked left when we should have forked right—and followed a well-traveled road until it dead-ended smack in the middle of a first-class cow barn.

Our country roads are pretty good, considering the eroding hand of winter, but I think they could stand some reform. Not the roads themselves, but the sign-boards. There aren't any.

Hope Lions Club once did our town a great favor: The Lions marked every last one of our streets. What we need now is to organize their counterpart in both Hempstead and Nevada counties and put up sign-boards at every fork in a rural road: "This way to Sutton," "This way to Laneburg," or "This way to Prescott."

I should have had a map. I have one.

You guessed it—it was back at the office.

British Will Come to the Aid of Nasser

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government is joining an international rescue operation to bolster the near-bankrupt regime of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, qualified diplomatic informants reported today.

They said Britain would join West Germany, Italy and possibly other countries this month in lending Egypt 47 million pounds—$112.8 million—to cover payments due the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank.

The Egyptian hope this will enable them to qualify for some 62 million pounds—$148.8 million—in new credits to offset a while longer the losses they are suffering as a result of the closure of the Suez Canal.

Only special aid from Saudi Arabia and Kuwait has made it possible for Nasser to stave off a major economic crisis.

British participation in the new loan seems sure to spark a hot controversy inside Wilson's Labor Party as well as in Parliament, where Nasser's standing has been low for the past 12 years.

Contempt Charge Is Set Aside

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today set aside the contempt of court citation against former State Police Director Lynn A. Davis for refusing to tell a Grand Jury and a judge the name of a confidential informant.

The court, however, because of a "meager" record of the case, made no conclusions on whether Davis was guilty of contempt for refusing to name the informant.

"From the record before us, we are unable to say that Davis was guilty of criminal contempt in refusing to answer the question propounded to him, so the summary order of the trial court holding Davis in contempt is hereby set aside," said the 6-1 majority opinion written by Associate Justice J. Fred Jones.

Davis, who has since been declared ineligible to be director, was jailed Dec. 5 for about 24 hours by Circuit Judge William J. Kirby of Little Rock.

Kirby found Davis in contempt for refusing to identify an informant who Davis said gave him information that led to some State Police gambling raids in Pulaski County Sept. 9. Davis was testifying in a Grand Jury investigation into the gambling raids.

The court questioned primarily the lack of information on the record about Davis' appearance before the judge in chambers after the former director refused to tell the Grand Jury the informant's name.

The high court said Kirby went too far in ordering Davis to jail because statute provides that when a witness declines to answer a question the judge should inquire if he is persistent in his refusal.

When this occurs, the opinion said, the judge should send the witness back to the Grand Jury, although the law does not set out exactly what the court should do.

The court noted that a Grand Jury receives nothing but legal evidence. Since the record does not reflect what evidence Davis' informant may have given, the Supreme Court has no way of determining whether it could have been received by the Grand Jury.

"In fact, the record here places us in the same position Davis' testimony placed the Grand Jury as expressed by its foreman—it does not give us anything to go on at all," Jones said.

Thinks Actresses Best When They Fall in Love With Directors

By EDITH LEDERER
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Emmy award-winning producer-director George Schaeffer says actresses give their best performances when they fall in love with their directors—and their directors fall in love with them.

"I very often end up with extreme crushes on my leading ladies—Claire Bloom, Lee Remick, Jean Simmons, Julie Harris, Geraldine Page, Genevieve Bujold," says the 47-year-old balding producer.

Apparently, the feeling is not totally one-sided. Claire Bloom describes Schaeffer as "an artistic gentleman." Julie Harris says he is "touched by genius." Lynn Fontanne calls him "technically brilliant."

Between rehearsals for his May 2 Hallmark production "The Admirable Crichton" starring Bill Travers and Virginia McKenna, Schaeffer enthusiastically discussed his occupation and one of his favorite preoccupations: actresses.

Schaeffer says his secret for successfully handling an actress is "a certain amount of diversity and swinging with the punches."

"Everyone is different," he says. "There are no two major actresses who have anything in common—which is probably

Residents of Chicago Respond Quickly to Calls for Riot Posse

By F. RICHARD CICCONE

CHICAGO (AP) — Jesse James' career as an outlaw would have been short-lived if the settlers of the Old West responded to posse calls as Chicago residents have.

Sheriff Joseph Woods of Cook County received more than a thousand applications and an equal number of telephone inquiries within a few days after his Feb. 12 call for a 1,000-man riot control unit to be used in case of civil disorders this summer.

As in the Old West, posse members will supply their own handguns and will draw no pay. The first batch of volunteers included the president of an airplane company, two attorneys, a hospital therapist, a security guard, a dining car porter, a systems analyst and an official of Pinkerton's, Inc., the private detective agency.

One man wrote, "I am 54 years of age...I know when the chips are down and America has to be defended, by God, I am ready."

The dining car porter said, "I am a Negro American. I don't think riots will help in any way. The only way is law and order." The sheriff wants his unit to be biracial—500 Negro and 500 white volunteers. The first week's figures indicated white volunteers outnumbered Negro volunteers 4-to-1.

Earl Latham, a Negro security guard, said, "the squad is a good idea if members keep their temper and cool." Applications from persons under 21, persons with police records or physical disabilities, or without jobs are automatically rejected.

Three hundred persons tentatively accepted last week will meet with Woods tonight.

"The volunteers will be carefully screened," Woods said. "Not one man will become a

Heart Sunday Chairman Is Announced

The chairman of the 1968 Heart Sunday appeal in Hope will be Mrs. Ralph Emerson, 1509 South Main Street, it was announced today by Mrs. George Young local Heart Fund Campaign Chairman.

Heart Sunday will be observed here as the high point of the month-long Heart Fund Campaign. Volunteers will call on their neighbors between February 22 and 25. A volunteer corps of workers is being recruited to cover the residential section.

Among the new chairman's duties will be that of recruiting a group of district captains to coordinate activities of the volunteers. Among the captains enrolled thus far are: Mr. and Mrs. Kinard Young, Ward 1, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lockhart, Ward 2, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Daniels, Ward 3, Mrs. Tilman McLelland, Ward 4, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kellam, Southland Heights and Westwood, and Mrs. Bill Ellis, Beverly Hills.

Mrs. Young named the following as chairman in towns and communities in Hempstead County: Mrs. Richard Arnold, DeAnn, Mrs. E. J. Hinton, Blevins and Mrs. Dave Cummings, Patmos. Other chairmen will be named for other towns within the county in a few days.

Proceeds of the drive are used to support research, education and community service activities of the Arkansas Heart Association, the only voluntary health agency here devoted exclusively to combating diseases of the heart and circulation, which are responsible for more than half of all deaths in this county.

After a moment's pause, he adds: "The technique may be a little similar, but the working conditions are quite different."

U.S. Planes Stray Over North Korea

By K.C. HWANG

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The United States admitted today that two American planes strayed over North Korea briefly on Sunday and expressed regret, with assurance that efforts would be made to prevent any more such incidents.

It was one of the few times in recent years that the United States has admitted a Communist charge that it had violated the Korean armistice.

Rear Adm. John V. Smith, the U.N. Command's senior delegate to the armistice commission, said the planes were on a navigational flight originating outside Korea Sunday afternoon. He said they violated Communist air space because of bad weather, the pilots' unfamiliarity with the terrain and a failure of navigational equipment.

"When they became aware of their location, they immediately took action to depart," Smith said. "The United Nations Com-

LBJ to Ike for Advice on the War

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson gave an enthusiastic account today of a six-hour meeting with Dwight D. Eisenhower that climaxed a transcontinental tour. During his week-long tour, Johnson said, more troops will be sent to Vietnam if needed.

Johnson visited the former Republican president Sunday at Palm Desert, Calif., before flying back to the White House.

Their marathon get-together embraced both serious talks about Vietnam and an 18-hole round of golf. "He did beat me," Johnson said. "He's really a professional."

Before flying by helicopter to the luxurious Eisenhower winter home, Johnson bade personal farewells to Vietnam-bound Marines and Army paratroopers and spent Saturday night aboard the carrier Constellation off the California coast.

He also told newsmen during his busy, secrecy-cloaked travels that troop strength in Vietnam will be raised beyond the authorized level of 525,000 "if we need to."

Talking with newsmen aboard his jet transport as it neared Washington, Johnson described his journey as "very interesting and helpful."

He talked about his personal sendoff of Army and Marine troops headed for Vietnam from Pope Air Force Base, N.C., and El Toro Marine Air Station, Cal.

Commission's Report on Riots Sure to Shock American Public

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — In a small red-carpeted room just off the Senate chamber, 10 men and a woman met several times each week and told in secret over a document which they fervently hope will sock the American people squarely between the eyes.

Taking their seats around a long table covered with a white linen cloth, members of the President's Commission on Civil Disorders revise, and revise again, drafts of a report, a one-two-three punch.

What will the report say? That won't be known, officially, until about March 1 when the commission reports to President Johnson on its investigation of last summer's riots.

But it has been learned that the report will cover:

1. What happened in Newark, Detroit and other cities. This section will describe the riots in graphic details, from the incidents that triggered them to the ashes and grief they produced.

2. Why the riots occurred. This section will examine the obvious and not-so-obvious reasons. The commission will conclude that the root causes are poverty, frustration, bitterness and hostility of slum dwellers.

3. What can be done to prevent riots. This section will tread on some bureaucratic toes by criticizing government programs which, the panel contends, haven't worked. There will be a recommendation for expansion of other programs, including a massive effort to get jobs, better education and decent housing for Negroes who live in urban slums.

One member said the commission believes it must jolt the public into realizing that the nation faces a crisis. For this reason, he said, the tone of the report will be dramatic, sharp—even harsh.

"Attitudes will have to change," the member said. Another added: "We can't keep on with business as usual. We all have to understand that this is a crisis."

"The report," says Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois, commission chairman, "will be uncomfortable for the people of the United States."

In the seven months since their appointment by President Johnson, commission members have walked the streets of riot-scarred neighborhoods and talked with slum residents, governors, mayors, police chiefs, generals, social workers, employment experts and Negro leaders of all persuasions, from old-line moderates to advocates of Black Power.

Some of the testimony received by the commission is so sensitive that it will be locked up in the National Archives for an undisclosed period.

Commission members are chary of publicly discussing what takes place behind the thick wooden doors of their Capitol meeting room. Still, broad outlines of the report are emerging.

Second Wave Offensive Easing Off

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Battle-weary U.S. Marines moving behind a protective umbrella of artillery pushed 400 yards through the rubble ruins of Hue's Citadel today to the brink of one of the last Communist strongholds in Vietnam's old capital.

Elsewhere, the Viet Cong slammed more rockets and mortars into Saigon and a few other cities today, but the Communists' "second wave" offensive appeared to be easing off considerably in its second day.

One rocket hit a passenger terminal at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport, killing one U.S. serviceman and wounding 21 as they waited with 180 other GIs for planes home after a year in Vietnam.

As the bloody battle for Hue raged through its 20th day, the Marines pushed to the southeast corner of the old walled Citadel. Then they turned right to begin a drive along the south wall toward the former Imperial Palace, where desperate North Vietnamese troops were dug in.

The Marines advanced about 400 yards and cleared the northeast wall of the old city.

South Vietnamese forces continued to battle their way along the stone wall on the western side of the Citadel, but the rate of their progress was not known.

The Viet Cong flag still flew on a towering radio mast rising from the inner Citadel.

Low clouds prevented air strikes today.

The battle for Hue is the only fighting still persisting from the Communists' lunar new year offensive. But in the "second wave," the Viet Cong shelled 47 cities, towns and military installations Sunday and made ground attacks on several.

"This is an economic way to do something without a significant loss of life on their part," said Lt. Col. Malcolm A. Sussel of Monterey, Calif., an operations officer at U.S. headquarters.

The allies estimate that the Communists sent 60,000 men into the lunar new year assault on 35 major population centers and lost more than 30,000 killed.

Three hundred Viet Cong stormed into Tan Thoi, a Saigon suburb three miles northwest of Tan Son Nhut, and seized the central market place.

Allied forces reported gains in the coastal provincial capital of Phan Thiet, 90 miles east of Saigon, where 500 guerrillas seized part of the town Sunday and freed 500 prisoners from the jail.

A U.S. military spokesman said the town had been cleared.

Symphony Coming Here Tuesday

The appearance of the Henderson State College Symphony Orchestra will be a rare treat for the music minded of Hope, as it will be the first concert in five years in Hope by a Symphony Orchestra.

The program to be played by the orchestra will include some standard orchestra literature plus some rather new but very interesting music.

The program will commence with the overture to the opera Iphigenia in Aulis Overture by Gluck, and end with selections from West Side Story by Bernstein.

Between these two selections will be the "Pavane" for Ravel, the "Emperor Waltz" by Strauss, a new and very interesting number by Charles Ives, "The Unanswered Question". This number will feature in addition to the orchestra a Woodwind Quartet and solo trumpet.

The soloist for the number will be Robert Levy, instructor of brass instruments at HSC. Rounding out the program will be the English Folk Song Suite by Ralph Vaughan Williams.

The program will be presented Tuesday night February 20 in the Hope High School Auditorium. Curtain time is 8:00 p.m.

Newsman in Final Plea to the ABA

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — News media representatives make a final plea today to the American Bar Association to sidetrack proposed new limits on crime information.

But the 289 members of the House of Delegates who will vote on the issue already have been told by its chief proponent, Justice Paul C. Reardon of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, that delay would be dangerous.

The guidelines, proposed by a special committee headed by Reardon, would limit what judges, police officials, lawyers and the cop on the beat may tell a newsman about a pending criminal case.

The objective is to shield defendants from jurors influenced by "prejudicial publicity." Critics fear dangerous secrecy would result.

Theodore Koop, a CBS vice president and chairman of a joint media committee; D. Tennant Bryan, president of the Richmond (Va.) Times-Dispatch and News Leader; and Michael J. Ogden, executive editor of The Providence Journal and Bulletin, are making the plea for delay from the floor.

They have told the delegates by letter that "it would be tragic indeed, if, in concern for one type of problem which might better be solved in better ways, we were to provide a ready-made cloak for official incompetence and corruption."

In any event, the newsmen say, adoption should be deferred because a study sponsored by the American Newspaper Publishers Association Foundation is developing "important new evidence."

Reardon, in a speech to a bar foundation, questioned whether the study would add anything "to what we already know."

Besides, he said that "in the face of increased criminal activity" it is imperative that convictions not be upset in appeals courts "because improper publicity has tainted trials."

The press-trial guidelines are the most controversial of 70 policy issues the delegates are considering in two days of sessions. Other significant items include committee reports that recommend people be offered the chance to buy insurance to protect themselves against future needs for a lawyer and proposed reforms in trial and appeals procedures.

Meanwhile, a special committee headed by Robert G. Storey, a former dean of the Southern Methodist University Law School, decided to ask the Democratic and Republican parties to adopt platform planks calling for direct popular election of president and vice president.

Storey told a news conference "I would think the chances that it would be adopted by the two party conventions are very good."

The ABA recommended last year that the electoral college system be junked and direct election be installed via a constitutional amendment.

House Control Influencing GOP Action

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The desire of Republican congressional leaders to recapture House control for the first time in 14 years is playing an important role in influencing their preferences in the GOP's presidential contest.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the House Republican Conference, feels the party's best opportunity to win additional House seats lies in the Northeast and that New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would be the biggest help in getting them.

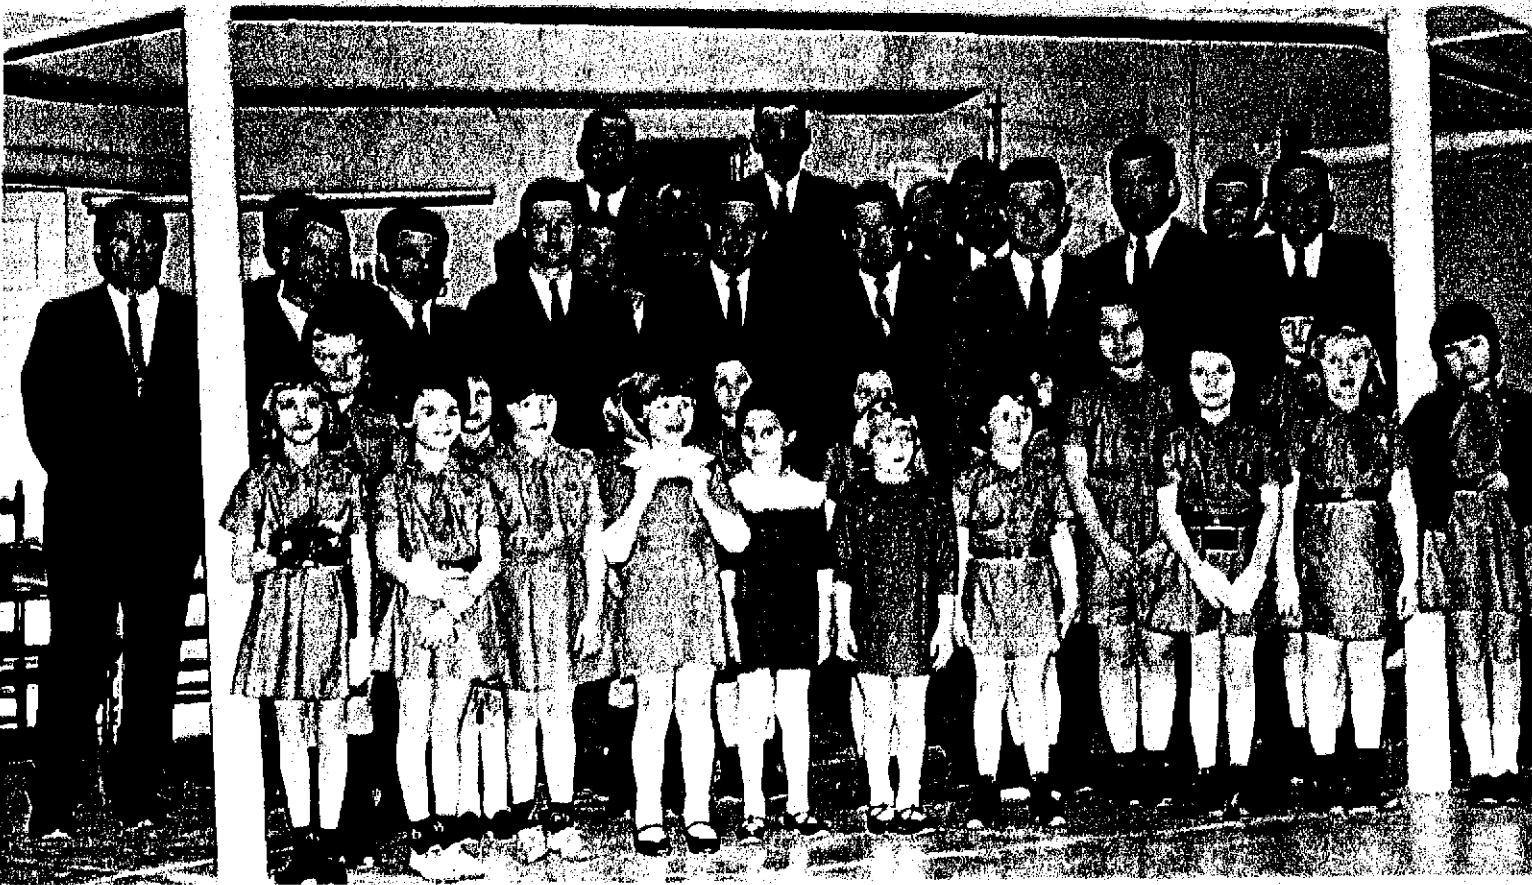

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan sees the South as the best hope for electing more Republicans. While officially neutral, he has in the past been close to Richard M. Nixon.

Studies by the Republican Congressional Committee outlining how the GOP can gain the 31 seats it needs for House control show 12 possible gains in the 11 Deep South states and 12 more in the nine New England and Middle Atlantic states.

But this assumes a normal two-party race. Former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace's third-party candidacy guarantees an abnormal situation, especially in the South.

In fact, it complicates the congressional situation in the

GOPs Going for Grass Roots Ideas

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican governors, frustrated in attempts to agree on a presidential candidate, are launching a grass-roots drive for a moderate party platform.

Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, chairman of the Republican Governors Association, scheduled a news conference today to announce a series of platform hearings. Individual citizens will be asked to contribute ideas on domestic and foreign policy issues.

The GOP state executives are promoting Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania for co-

South to such a degree that the long-range Republican trend in that once solidly Democratic region could well be blunted this year.

Thus, Laird view emerges as the more realistic, for this year at least.

In Alabama, Wallace's candidacy could wipe out the last three GOP House members of the five who were elected on Barry Goldwater's coattails in 1964.

In other Southern states, it poses this question: Who will Wallace voters back for Congress?

The Wallace voters could well determine the outcome of most of the closely contested races, as Republicans seek to expand their Southern bridgeheads. The GOP has 23 of the 196 seats in the 11 Southern states.

Wallace is expected to take anti-Johnson votes that might normally go to a Republican nominee such as Nixon. But these same votes might go right back to a Republican congressional candidate if he could tie his Democratic opponent closely enough to the administration.

However, many Southern Democrats have pursued independent voting records which would enable them to pick up support from Wallace voters.

Thus, the South provides uncertain ground at best for Republicans to make House gains this year.

In the Northeast, however, a popular GOP candidate could enable his party to make strong gains. With Democrats controlling House delegations of New York, Connecticut and New Jersey by margins of 20 to 15, 5 to 1 and 9 to 6, the GOP will need strength at the head of the ticket to make significant inroads.

Strategists such as Laird point out the GOP could pick up a dozen seats in just two states; New York, where seven Republican districts went Democratic in 1964, and volatile Connecticut, which elected six Republicans in the Eisenhower sweep of 1956 and six Democrats in 1958. The state now has five Democrats and one Republican.

A Republican National Committee analysis of the 1966 congressional election said erosion of GOP strength in the East had finally been halted. But it noted that Republicans have 34 fewer House seats in the East than after the 1952 election. It is no coincidence that the 1952 election was the last one which elected a Republican-controlled House.

James Marlow who usually writes this column, is ill.

chairman of the Miami Beach, Fla., convention platform committee to sit with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

The party moderates among the governors express fear that Dirksen, who has supported President Johnson's basic objectives in Vietnam, will be inclined to leave little room for a Republican alternative to the administration's Asian course.

They regard Dirksen who placed Barry Goldwater's name in nomination at the 1964 convention, as too conservative on domestic policies. But so far they have not seemed to make much headway in their efforts to dislodge Dirksen or to win Shafer a share of the chairmanship power.

Shafer has been designated to supervise the governors' version of platform hearings. He will be operating with a workbook on issues assembled by staff members under the direction of the association's policy committee, headed by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Although Rockefeller apparently would be the choice of a majority of the 26 governors for the presidential nomination, he has made it difficult for them to coalesce behind him.

He has filed an affidavit of non-candidacy, withdrawing his name from the April 2 Wisconsin primary, and is expected to take similar action in the May 14 Nebraska and May 28 Oregon primaries.

Rockefeller and Chafee are committed to the candidacy of Michigan Gov. George Romney. But they have failed to stir any enthusiasm among other state GOP executives for crawling out on what many of them seem to think may be a cracking political limb.

Rockefeller's public disavowal of candidacy still leaves the door open for him to become a contender at the convention, with the powerful 92-vote New York delegation behind him as a favorite son.

But Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., a former GOP national chairman who participated in the abortive attempt by the moderates to head off Goldwater's nomination at the last minute in 1964, said time is wasting.

He said the moderates who predominate among the governors "haven't shown the unity which it will take . . . to bring about the nomination of a progressive candidate."

"I hope they don't fall on their faces or over their own feet," he said. "I'm for the governors. I think they can do it but I think they had better not waste any time."

Scott expressed these views on a taped television program broadcast by Pennsylvania stations Sunday.

Recruiting of Civilians Is Halted

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. foreign aid agency has temporarily halted its nationwide recruiting of civilians for duty in Vietnam pending a review of job needs there.

As a result, plans for enlistment campaigns in 37 cities across the country from February through June have been put on the shelf until the Agency for International Development completes its reassessment.

AID normally carries on extensive recruiting drives for qualified U.S. specialists in police training, agriculture, nursing, and a variety of other non-military tasks in the pacification or nation-building effort in South Vietnam.

AID's last recruiting campaign ended in Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 1.

The Communist assault on cities throughout South Vietnam, also took a toll in the pacification programs in the countryside and this is one of the factors in AID's study. Some officials in Washington believe there also will be a need for more AID attention to urban centers.

However the review was under way before the Reds unleashed their onslaughts at the end of January. William S. Gaud, AID chief, had decided before then that he wanted to slice about 10 per cent off the agency's plans for a Vietnam force of some 2,500 by mid-1968.

Some 2,000 Americans are on AID rolls in Vietnam now, so Gaud in effect was proposing a more limited increase there than previously scheduled.

President Johnson's January directive for a 10 per cent trimming of U.S. overseas staffs globally did not apply to Vietnam. But AID is applying the 10 per cent cut to the 3,000 Americans it employs in other overseas areas and some may be sent to Vietnam.

The head of the U.S. aid mission in Saigon, Donald G. MacDonald, had been slated to return to Washington by this time to meet with Gaud on this matter but his trip was delayed by the Viet Cong attacks.

There is little doubt here that AID will resume its stateside recruiting in due course. Since the regular U.S. civilian tour in Vietnam is only 18 months, it needs replacements if only to keep up its current force there.

AID recruiters said they do not expect a fall-off in volunteers because of the Communist attacks. So far seven AID workers are known to have been killed in the recent Red assaults.

The recruiters reported that at Phoenix, where the enlistment campaign was just winding up when news of the Communist attacks broke, only five of some 300 volunteers asked to be taken off the list.

Prison Bill Is Before Legislature

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas General Assembly is being asked to revamp the state's prison structure this week after the administration finally got its "true bill" introduced late in the second week of the special session.

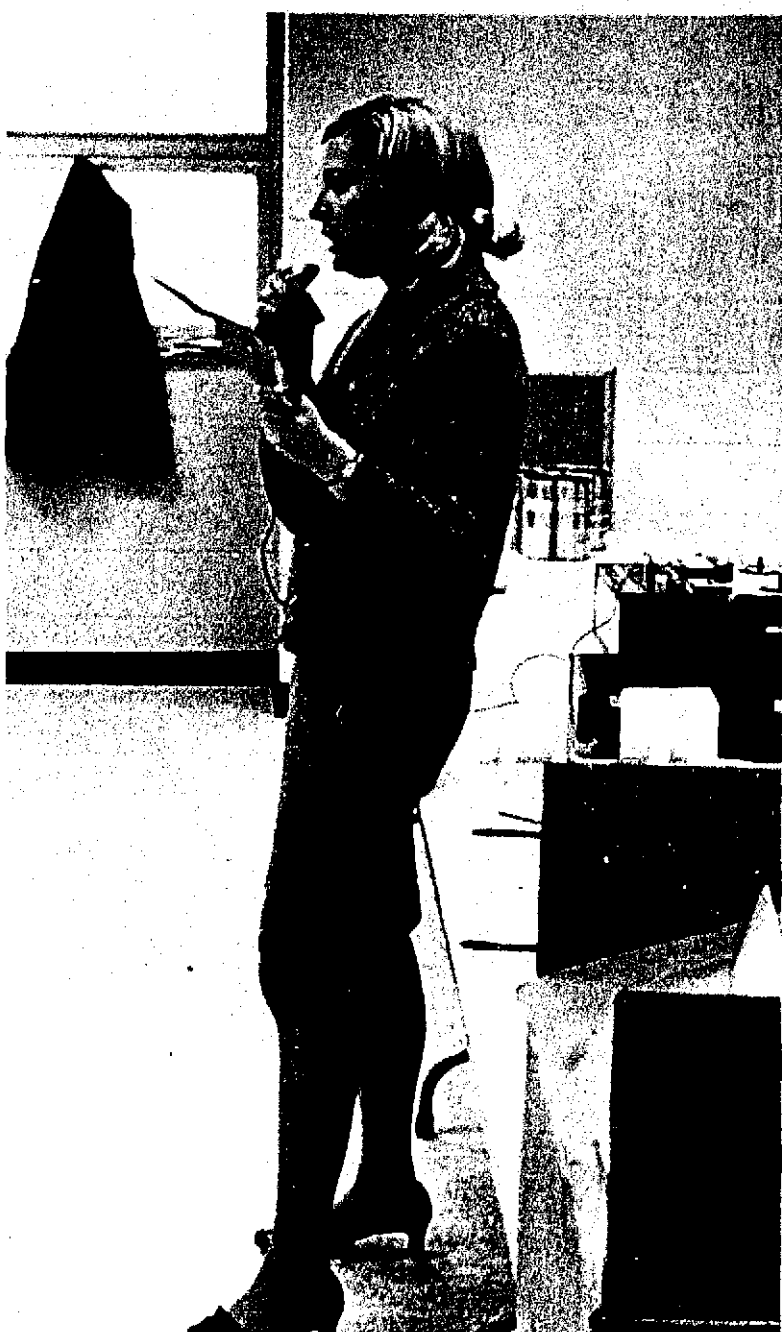

Two previous drafts of a measure to create a Department of Corrections were shelved in the first week of the session when it became apparent that the legislators were disturbed by so many sections of it that amendments would probably have contained more wordage than the lengthy bills themselves.

The latest measure is one of the principal reasons why the special session entered its third week today, making a shambles of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's opening day remark that it could end in six days.

The bill has corrected a lot of items opposed by lawmakers last week by providing for a death chamber, by not prohibiting corporal punishment and by requiring the legislature's approval of any land sales.

It is doubtful that a bill prohibiting corporal punishment could get through the General Assembly since the House provided for it in an amendment on the second bill, which was finally withdrawn.

Art Education consultant for the American Crayon Co., Miss Helene Umbach, conducted a inservice workshop last week for Hope elementary school teachers. The teachers were challenged to give students more art in their classrooms.

Miss Umbach presented several new ideas in elementary art and directed teachers as they became actively involved.

Israel Just Carries Out the Warning

By HAL MCCLURE
Associated Press Writer
TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel's punishing strike against Jordan last week came as the culmination of a classic pattern: Arab provocation over a long period, Israeli warnings, and finally explosion.

The Israelis hewed to the pattern when they launched a punitive raid against the Jordanian town of Samna, an alleged Arab command base, in November 1966. Again, last May, a similar warning to Damascus was the announced reason for Egyptian intervention and the resultant June war.

A week before last Thursday's clash, Israeli leaders had been telling Amman to put a halt to Arab commando raids against Israeli settlements and stop provoking cross-border gun battles, some of which were rigged to permit the saboteurs to escape back across the border.

"Carefully consider" your ways, was the way Prime Minister Levi Eshkol put it to Jordan's leaders.

Defense Minister Moshe Dayan was just as explicit when he gave the chief U.N. cease-fire observer in the Middle East, Norwegian Lt. Gen. Odd Bull, a message for Amman on Wednesday. He said the cease-fire ending the June war not only covered the borders but Israel's interior.

But that very night, Israeli border settlements in the sabotage-plagued Belsen Valley were hit again.

By Israeli reckoning it was the 91st "offensive act" along the border since June. The fight was on.

The Israelis called in tanks, artillery and aircraft to silence the Jordanian positions. A score of Jordanian targets, including Al Fatah commando bases, self-propelled gun positions and ammunition dumps were hit by Israeli planes ranging at will 10 miles inside Jordan.

By 9:15 that night, the Jordanians had plainly had enough, counting 40 soldiers and civilians killed and another 127 wounded.

Because there were no U.N. observers on this border, the Jordanians asked for a cease-fire through the good offices of the U.S. Embassies in Amman and Tel Aviv.

The cease-fire went into effect again shortly before 11 p.m. after eight hours' fighting.

King Hussein toured the battle zone the next day and then went on Radio Amman to say he would try to keep the border quiet by preventing Arab guerrillas from striking into Israel.

"As from today I shall not allow anyone to supply the enemy with pretexts and justifications for aggression," he said.

"I shall not allow anything to occur in this land which does not conform with the higher Arab interest or which does not support Arab rights in Palestine."

Confusing the picture is the presence in Jordan—since last June—of several thousand Iraqi troops, who are not directly responsible to Hussein.

The Israelis say the Iraqis also have been training, supplying and transporting Arab guerrillas striking inside Israel. Iraqi cooperation with Hussein is imperative if the sabotage raids are to stop and the border clashes end, the Israelis believe, but they wonder if the king is in a strong enough position to carry out his no-raid pledge.

The thought here is that Hussein's very future may well be in the balance in the days ahead.

THE WELL CHILD Normal Life Possible In Cystic Fibrosis Cases

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

A mother writes asking a number of questions about cystic fibrosis (CF), one of the inborn errors of metabolism. Formerly this was a highly fatal disease, but now a child with cystic fibrosis can enjoy a normal life if appropriate treatment is given early in the course of the disease. CF is characterized by abnormally sticky mucus secretions that obstruct the air passages in the lungs and a failure of production of essential enzymes by the pancreas. Also the victim's sweat is abnormally salty.

The cause is a defect in one of the genes. The victim inherits this recessive gene from both of his parents although neither of them show any evidence of the disease. Thus, he will not pass it on to his children directly but may pass it to his grandchildren. About 7,000 children in this country are born with this disease every year. Fortunately, many have it in a mild form.

The treatment, though effective, is not simple. It requires a team effort in a medical center equipped to care for children with CF until control is established. The child sleeps in a highly humidified tent and antibiotics are given to prevent pneumonia. Postural drainage and inhalation therapy help to prevent blockage of the air passages.

In addition to a low-fat, high-protein diet with vitamin supplements, including vitamin E, pancreatic enzymes are given. Special measures must be taken in hot weather to prevent excessive loss of salt through sweating. Recently, a germ that is harmless to the body but which feeds on the sticky mucus has been discovered and is being developed to aid in the treatment of CF.

For up-to-the-minute information on this subject, you may write to the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, 521 Fifth Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017.

although there was still enemy sniper fire in the northeast and northwest sections. He said U.S. paratroopers drove the guerrillas beyond the northwest edge of town but one band still held the provincial hospital.

South Vietnamese troops on the northeast side of Phan Thiet reported they drove the Communist troops out in that section and said they killed 102 Viet Cong Sunday, suffering seven dead and 57 wounded themselves. But the Communists launched a counterattack this morning, laying down heavy mortar and small arms fire on the railway station, the jail and the city headquarters.

U.S. fighter-bombers, helicopter gunships and the destroyer Frank E. Evans joined the battle, and the destroyer's five-inch guns blazed away for two hours from the South China Sea. An air spotter said he intercepted a Communist radio transmission reporting that "the big mortars from the sea caused many casualties."

The U.S. Command said the Communists shelled Saigon from 10 positions to the north and northwest. Allied planes made repeated strikes at the positions but failed to silence the enemy gunners.

The Air Force said U.S. casualties at the entire Tanh Son Nhut complex since the shelling began at 1 a.m. Sunday were six killed and 131 wounded, of whom 67 were hospitalized. The base includes the headquarters of Gen. William C. Westmoreland.

"The teachers know exactly what they are doing and are going to stick with it come what may," Constans said. "If it is a long struggle, we are ready to make it a long struggle."

State House Minority Leader Donald Reed, R-Boca Raton, vowed unending resistance to an FEA demand to be recognized as the bargaining agent for all Florida teachers. Reed said money was only a side issue and accused the FEA leadership of masterminding a "power play" in state politics.

Although some legislators said the only answer to the shutdown is for lawmakers to come back to Tallahassee and hammer out another education bill, Reed, a close advisor to the governor, said a second special session would not be called.

"At this point, there's no reason for it," he said, "and I'm not interested in going up there until the legislature is ready to enact laws to keep this from happening again."

Gerald Mager, gubernatorial legal aide, said if teachers did not show up and their absence "seems to be part of a general scheme or design to strike," he would urge the state to go back to court to try to enforce Judge Willis' order.

Pacifists Rap Handling of Prisoners

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two pacifists involved in North Vietnam's release of three American flyers claim "inept and cold-blooded" handling of the situation by this country has endangered release of other prisoners of war.

The three airmen—looking fit and cheerful after emotional reunions with their families—were in military hospitals Sunday for physical checkups. They are Air Force Lt. Col.

Norris M. Overly of Oscoda, Mich.; Capt. Jon D. Black of Laredo, Texas; and Navy Lt. (jg) David Matheny of Bakersfield, Calif.

They indicated there would be a joint press conference, yet unscheduled, on their four to five-month ordeals in North Vietnam prisons after their planes were shot down last fall.

The pacifists—Prof. Howard Zinn of Boston University and the Rev. Daniel Berrigan, a Jesuit priest at Cornell University—claimed the three were reluctant to fly home on military aircraft for fear of jeopardizing release of other prisoners.

The pacifists said the men had been told by North Vietnamese authorities to return home on a nonmilitary plane or it could mean the end of release of U.S. prisoners of war.

Zinn and Father Berrigan, arriving in New York on a commercial flight from Paris, said U.S. authorities persuaded the airmen to return on military aircraft anyway.

Berrigan said "the spirit of the mission to bring the men back home has been betrayed by U.S. intervention."

But a Defense Department spokesman said the airmen had their choice, and they chose military transportation because it was faster and they could get medical examinations en route.

Leftists in Berlin in War Protest

BERLIN (AP) — West German's militant New Left clamored a weekend of demonstrations against U.S. involvement in Vietnam with adoption of a program to help the Communist war effort there by undermining American forces in Europe.

An estimated 10,000 youths waving Viet Cong flags and red banners wound up a three-mile protest march Sunday with a city rally in front of the West Berlin Opera House.

They also pledged themselves to encourage American servicemen at European bases to commit sabotage and to desert.

West Germany's Socialist Students Union launched the movement, which attracted youth groups from throughout western Europe and the United States.

West Berlin Mayor Klaus Schuette was overruled by a city court in his attempt to ban the outdoor demonstration.
